

Are your Hyperion Applications hindering your Potential?

This ebook first appeared on the OneStream

Time to Lead at Speed

Thousands of organizations around the world are relying on multiple Oracle Hyperion applications such as HFM, Hyperion Planning, Hyperion Financial Data Quality Management, Hyperion Strategic Finance, Hyperion Profitability and Cost Management, Oracle Essbase and others to support their critical finance processes.

While these were great products for many years, they were not designed to help Finance teams lead at speed. Over the past few years there has been limited innovation and declining support for these legacy products. And now, with the end of support looming for older versions of these products - customers are at an inflection point.

This interactive e-book highlights:

- How Hyperion customers can unleash the power of finance by unifying corporate performance management (CPM) processes such as planning, financial close & consolidation, reporting and analytics through a single, extensible solution.
- Introduces the unique advantages of OneStream including the single unified platform, the ability to conquer complexity and the support for future growth and change in your organization
- Explains the mission of OneStream to deliver 100% customer success to our more than 750 mid-sized to large enterprises around the world and across industries who are using OneStream for planning, financial close & consolidation, reporting, analytics and more.
- Several customer case studies to explain why over 300 organizations have chosen to convert from multiple Oracle Hyperion products to OneStream's unified platform - and never looked back!
